Hi Guys-

Sorry for the late response. Work's been killer. As mentioned by someone in one of the posts, it is very evident that I am very new to tying. I really appreciate all tips and advice. I think my dubbing was absorbent, and my hackle def sucked.

A forum member from the LV area that has a camp near my town took pity on me and offered to help me tie some flies over the weekend. This is just what I needed. I don't have time to go through the play by play of what we went over, but I can say that there was a lot of information which always seems to sink in a little better when I have live visual aids. In other words, I learn better by watching and doing.

I have some pics that I was going to post but my computer wont allow me to upload them for some reason.
