9 wt will work ok if conditions are right. But I have always used a 10. If there is wind" which there always seems to be" 10 works better. That being said use what you have. I always use shooting heads in surf water. Casting a head when windy is much easier than a full line. Also like Sandfly said a 10 lb blue fish can tear you up. Got into some big ones on the Vinyard once. We where catching fish from 12 to 16 lbs. I went to a 12 wt. My knuckles where getting beat.
