I've fished the section around Purdix off and on since the early 80's. I haven't been out there for 5-7 years and remember that the fish number had dropped significantly. Last year I hit it in the fall and caught good numbers of 10-14" fish. Hit the east shore a week or two ago and we took a half dozen in the 17-19" range. I was impressed and based on my experience, thought things were getting better. Guess not.
