big brookies will take small browns too. saw a big ole one on the Little Lehigh last week - he slid out of a side hole, sneaked up behind a big pod of juvi browns and suckers in the bridge hole took one and disappeared to its lair.

he was part of the food chain too though - a big gash out of his back from a hawk or heron.

i'm guessing he was a stocker brookie moved up from somewhere else and gone rogue. definitely in the 14-16" range.
