

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Same creek + different stretch of water = completely different fish behavior

Re: Same creek + different stretch of water = completely different fish behavior

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2013/9/16 0:35:03

URL:

Glad you are following up on the differences in the sections of this stream.

Fishing in faster water will always be easier.

Fishing in broken water simply means fish get less time to examine your offering. It's easier for beginners because of this.

Having said that, I believe your accomplishments on the first trip is greater than this recent trip. As these trips will be greater than your Potter County trips.