Jay you are right about Panfisherman. Kinda the pot calling the kettle black. Most musky guys I know are catch and release. Which most are fly guys by the way. But your bass walleye and pan fisherman are, well all bets are off. Accord to the them musky are dastardly, vicious fish stealers. Which taking a reeled in fish off someone's line is a easy meal. That's how they survive. Plan and simple.
