

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : returning Atlantics to the Salmon River, NY

Re: returning Atlantics to the Salmon River, NY

Author: : JeffK

Date: : 2013/9/16 13:24:26

URL:

I love the way Atlantics jump, they jump straight up into the air and will do it plenty of times. Steelies sometimes jump the same way, Pacific salmon less so. However, fresh cohoes can go nuts sprinting all over the place and jumping all over the place, but rarely jumping straight up. A lot of it IMHO comes from the temperature. The more the temperature is near the prime temperature, the more spectacular the leaps. As you go hotter or cooler the jumps become less intense.