NICE brookie. My brother and i were up in the southern part of sproul state forest on saturday the 14th.

Water was was surprisingly really low on the stream we fished. there must have had training thunderstorms in the area you fished.

We checked out about 4 streams before deciding on this one, it was pretty good.

The interesting thing is the streams were all over the place as far as flow. First Fork was mud, ditto East Fork, another trib was low and cealr and we didn't think it woud be productive. We checked another trib and it was unfishable because it was high and muddy, that lead us to plan 'e.'

Kudos to RLeeP. TB caught a bunch of fish too, and a couple were about as big.
