

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : To tie one on or not?

Re: To tie one on or not?

Author: : phiendWMD

Date: : 2013/9/18 9:03:48

URL:

I just bought enough stuff to tie a couple flies about a week and a half ago. I picked the flies I use the most to start with. One of the biggest factors was not being able to buy exactly what I thought I needed locally. I have a pretty well stocked fly shop close to me, and they still don't always have the flies I'm looking for sometimes. Now that should be less of a problem.

Started with elk hair caddis, zebra midges, comparaduns, and Rainys grand hopper. I'm still struggling with the hopper, but the others I've mostly gotten the hang of. I can't seem to shape the foam body correctly.