They have basic utensils, pots, pans, dishes etc...Pretty much everything you need but it's basic stuff. You will need charcoal if you plan to grill. Charcoal grills are the permanent 1 post campground kind. Some cabins have fire wood for fire pits provided, others dont. We brought some of our own wood but that may or may not be illegal (taking firewood across state lines)! About the upper property fishing area. You can walk or drive. We drove it with a Nissan Xterra. The road is absolutely nuts but it can be done with a 4WD vehicle. There are a few hair pin turns on steep inclines, so a reel 4WD is necessary...I wouldn't take an AWD car.
