I have one very similar to that one it not exactly the same. I use it every now n then. I use a 7Wt line on it. Seems to give it a little more flex. It works well with a 5 but I like it to bend a little bit more than some. Some of these rods are pretty cool and work real nice. I have an old Fenwick glass too. That is a nice one also. Use it, graphite ain't everything.
