Went up yesterday had a blast! Got there around noon drove past elk first looked pretty washed up then traveled back down to walnut and I couldn't believe it I never experienced fishing like this haha it was just shoulder to shoulder all the way down the stream I fished beneath a nice hole with a smaller waterfall at the top hooked into two in the first hour and was just in shock kinda how hard these fish fought it was so fun...and just to watch them travel up stream was amazing after I hooked the first two with no fish landed it was dead for me for about two hours I ended up moving upstream and switched to a sucker spawn and hooked into another a few casts after and it slammed my fly and I fought the fish for atleast 20 mins until I landed him it was such an awesome experience and one of my most memorable fishing trips I can't wait to go back
