Thanks again for the info. Stopped by an "antique" store this morning that I recalled having some old reels and picked up a perfectly functioning 1494 Pflueger (based on previous advise on this thread). Not knowing the 1495, my limited research indicated the 1494 to be slightly smaller than the 1495. Assuming it's matched well with 5 weight line. Next up an old wicker creel to finish off the look!!! (actually I have a half dozen hanging on my cabin wall as "art")
