

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Roach River, Maine, Sep. 21, 22, 23, 2013

Re: Roach River, Maine, Sep. 21, 22, 23, 2013

Author: : mcneishm

Date: : 2013/9/25 11:43:03

URL:

I meant to add too that the entire river is FFO, catch and release. Angling pressure is fairly low except for the upper end right below First Roach Pond. There are tons of places to stay between Greenville and Kokadjo plus a very nice state park at Lilly Bay with oodles of nice tent sites. The fishing in the fall begins about September 1 when the Maine DIFW opens the gates at First Roach Pond to increase the flow in the river. I have not fished there in the Spring but there are brookies in the river and some landlocks in May and June until the water warms up.

PM me for more specific info.