

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Toothy Critter Success Thread

Re: Toothy Critter Success Thread

Author: : PACOFRANSICO

Date: : 2013/9/25 14:40:19

URL:

Midnight there are specific rods made now for pike and musky and big Predatory fish. And everyone I've got my hands on are great rods. Beulah, sage, redington, Greys and even echo. And there all 4 piece. If ya wax your ferrules and even electrical tape em you don't have to worry. All tens are not created equal I know I've own a couple of em. I don't think that there's a two piece and a handful of 1 piece rods ( hardy sinytrex) that are in the ball park performance wise. When you start talking 400 + grn lines and 12 inches of fly.