I looked at those sonic pro waders. They look decent and the price isn't bad. They holding up ok for you? don't know if or when the G3's will wear out. They are pretty heavy duty and probably one of the best purchases I've made.

I have the Sonic Pros and love them. Will PM you my review.

And although I haven't seen them in person yet, the new Orvis zipper fronts that replaced the pro guides look like a killer value for the price.

I also owned the Pro Guides, and didn't think much of them. Nothing particularly awful, just overly heavy and bulky and didn't breathe all that well.
