

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Toothy Critter Success Thread

Re: Toothy Critter Success Thread

Author: : PACOFRANSICO

Date: : 2013/9/25 16:21:04

URL:

Crotalus I use a break point on my type 7 setup. On my type 3 or intermediate (topwater) I almost never do. I have had pop a couple nail knots because of being snagged. If you don't coat your nail knot that's were it comes apart or were 1 of the loop knots are. I'm just trying to prefect everything less knots less chances of Mr Murphy rearing his ugly head. On a figure 8 take with a ft of line out the tip top ya want a smooth transition for leader to fly line.

If ya boat fish lakes no need for a break point.