

---

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : A great idea , wish Pennsylvania would adopt

Re: A great idea , wish Pennsylvania would adopt

Author: : salmonoid

Date: : 2013/9/26 19:01:37

URL:

A fair number of streams in the ANF have culvert inhibitors they flow through. Plus, they make for nasty falls and/or cuts when one falls trying to climb up through them and takes a dunk in their plunge pools 😞

On the design shown from the OP, it's way too small. It doesn't even appear to be sized for a one-year flood, let alone a ten or hundred year one. The concept is definitely good, but they need to increase the size by an order of magnitude.