There is nothing in the DSR rules that I see (<http://www.douglastonsalmonrun.com/Rules--Regs.aspx>) in terms of start time that's any different from the NYS rules. I've not ever been bothered about when I start fishing since I'm not a season pass holder so I usually don't get down to the river until close to sun up. In any event, it's difficult to see to fish much earlier than that anyway, at least for me.
