I would think that they were more purple and silver just for being in the creek and I didn't know that there was an actual fish called a war mouth we just ran with it because of the teeth. There not musky teeth but noticeable for a blue gill. I kind of thought that they were getting bigger teeth just from what they we eating over the years. I will check out the war mouth tommorrow. Just looked up a warmouth pretty cool a cross between a bass and bluegill, Just think of the possibilities rainbow and great white.
