Shadow,

No problem with keeping your company secrets your own...I am interested in the Stalker rod but own a Sage ZXL which has been serving me awesome lately. It is medium like that or a bit quicker? Also, where does the Warrior fit in? Lastly, what quality cork is on the rods. Good cork seems to be getting harder and harder to come by and with the price point, I just wanted to ask. Which would be a better rod for dries, nymphs, smaller dry-droppers, and streamers to size 6? Thanks again for answering my questions...I wish I could demo one but don't know of a dealer by me for these rods? Any in NEPA yet?
