
Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : PA Rod company

Re: PA Rod company

Author: : Shadow

Date: : 2013/9/30 21:21:37

URL:

Bigbass,

As Krayfish stated there will be a demo of the rod at the jam. Go check it out there.

The cork on the rod is very unique. It is unlike any corks on any fly rod i have come across. They are slender with no large bumps or divets across the cork. It feels amazing in the hand. This is a feature we focused on and a lot of anglers are praising.

Both rods would be great for those setups it is all preference. I think anyone would be pleased with either rod, they are both amazing.

The fast action rod seems to cast farther for me but the medium has such a different feel than the fast. They are both amazing rods, I guess its something you would have to decide for yourself.

I honestly feel you can not go wrong with either rod. Feedback has been 100% positive on both rods so far.
(Knock on wood)