I have known Lenny for a few years and we fish together whenever we are in the same area. He has really caught the muskie bug and will be able to help you. Good kid, but shitty hair. Make sure when you talk to him you tell him I said that.

Haha will do. I still have yet to get to a meeting and talk to him. The problem is that the meetings are on thursday nights and im either fishing or busy getting rocked by my major haha. Next week ive got nothing going on so I'll finally make it to one.

These trout have been keeping me occupied for the time being. But this weather is making me want to musky fish real bad
