The source of this possibly comes from PA Outdoor News. I could swear I read in the Q & A part that stated the PFBC was asking anglers to throw browns and bows on the bank to help the brookies, and then asked like 6 anglers their feelings on it. The question didnt read hypothetical at all and sure sounded like they were already advising it.

I checked and it does say the PFBC is in fact asking anglers to do this. I think it actually said to harvest them though.

So now I wonder. Is this a misprint?

Most likely but I dont know for sure and the timing of the bows getting thrown to the bank and this issue from mid sept. is pretty remarkable.
