

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Musky Fishing in State College

Re: Musky Fishing in State College

Author: : wgmiller

Date: : 2013/10/2 15:22:45

URL:

I just got into this game and it can be a bit frustrating. You gotta be in it for the 'long haul' or it's going to turn you away. I've been working three waterways in search of them: Swatara Creek, Susquehanna River, and the Conestoga River; all of them wadeable. I'm with PA - the free time I have, I have to have a line in the water and the fly swimming. The low flows right now are a great time to be checking things out as well, but I'm taking my chances with tossing big meat when and where I can.

It's a persistence thing. I haven't hooked up yet, but have seen some and that alone was enough to get the heart racing. I know that I'm going to have to put some time in and many days will be 'fishless' which I'm okay with. If it were easy, I'd go trout fishing :)