

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Iridescent feathers when wet

Iridescent feathers when wet

Author: : lestrout

Date: : 2013/10/2 18:50:30

URL:

Butterfly wings get their beautiful colors not from pigments but from light refraction. Same effect as Newton's Rings like a film of oil on water. So when an iridescent feather like a winter starling's gets wet, will the effect still hold?