So, after obsessing for months, I think I'm ready. We'll see how it goes. I'll be up in the 4wd drive section above Corolla where they are catching some drum. I must admit the government shutdown and closing of the Oregon Inlet and Bodie Island visitor center has put a wrench in my plans and has me a bit discouraged.

Have my stripping basket & mainly have clousers & a rattle shrimp pattern going to try and tie a mole crab pattern and then I think I'm done.

Still a bit confused on leaders, but the advice I got was a 6-8ft tapered leader for the intermediate line, 4-6 ft straight mono with the sinking line. Just not sure from # test and the need for shock tippet.

I'd be welcome to any last minute advice!
