Is there a list of streams that they have identified?

^---This is something I'm curious about.

And dc410 makes a good point, are these 'new' Class A streams, or existing Class A streams that are already being stocked over?

Stop stocking them, and all those opening week(s) traditionalists will most definitely put a hurtin' on the wild fish until they complain about how there 'ain't no more feesh' and quit buying licenses. Or continue to stock over the wilds in those ATW sections and keep the status quo.

Which makes Becker's query kinda pivotal to the discussion...which (9) streams out of all of them are they talking about?
