and my memory won't be able to duplicate many of those trips the way photos can.

See, for me, memory beats the photo's on it's own. If it's memory vs. photo, memory wins.

That might be the case at this point in your life, it will be a different story when you're 75 or 80 though. Wait, you have to already know that. 😊 The mind can't reproduce anywhere near the detail/color of a good quality pic.
