

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : pheasant feathers

pheasant feathers

Author: : francisj

Date: : 2013/10/16 15:20:34

URL:

hey guys I'm pretty new to fly fishing, and I have a couple dozen pheasant tail feathers and plan on adding a few more this year.as well as some grouse tail fan feathers. I'm looking to trade these as as well as any other feathers anyone might use or need for some flies. nothing specific just whatever your tying tie one for me type deal.

as far as I cant tell this is perfectly legal if not please someone just let me know I'm not trying to break any laws also if this is some taboo practice that upsets people again that is not my goal. I just hate to waste any part of a animal that could be used and maybe get a few flies for my poorly stocked box.

I'm not making a sales pitch in this room just triple checking legality and morality before I do anything I appreciate any help thanks in advance