Interesting story - thanks for the link.

Isn't the Bellefonte Hatchery schedule to close next year? Last time I checked, this had been approved for 2013.....but then the PFBC decided to continue fish production through 2014. What am I missing?

My understanding is the closing of the hatcheries is on a holding pattern. The State (Pollies) don't want to endure the wrath of the trout anglers in their district and have promised to fund the hatcheries...somehow?

I voiced my opinion that accepting funds from the General Fund will destroy what little autonomy the PFBC has over stocking and regulations.....but that's another matter altogether.
