I have had an Oasis, (oasisbenches.com), for several years that is very similar to what you are looking at. I loved it at first. I could easily move it around and tie at the kitchen table, in front of the computer, in front of the TV, etc. Recently, I took over a small bedroom in the house which is now my fishing room. I am thinking of getting rid of the oasis and use separate stand alone tool caddies, thread holders, etc so that I can spread out over my desk.
