There used to be one called steelheadsite or something like that, but I haven't visited it in years. I think it is still out there. It was a lot of fun until the moderators got excessive.

However, when I visited it, the PA page was rarely used.

Moderation is OK in moderation.

Unfortunately, it was becoming worse than FishErie and strict moderation became essential. I moderate the OH forum. We got rid of the majority of the stupidity, but it has taken a while to build back up a group of folks that just want to be helpful. I so wish our forum could be as awesome a PAFF.
