I remember now, I started a thread awhile back about Perrine Boxes and you had a picture of your collection. Very nice. I too am a fan and admirer of the classic perrine boxes. I'm wondering if you are the guy that is always bidding against me on the Bay. Good buys are getting slimmer for these boxes. As a collector there are so many variations. For example, I have seen the leaf on the salmon box made of both clear and white plastic.
