Ah come on, spring creek isn't that bad. Wait, now that you mention it, that IS where I hooked a brown wearing a mini bullet-proof vest. I thought the fish was over reacting a bit, but the same day I fished it stream last, they did find a body in the stream at the 441 bridge (no lie...about the body. The vest thing wasn't true). In all seriousness though, if you fish it during the day and stay near the greenbelt, you SHOULD be ok. But if you get jumped, I'm going to think that fish was really damn smart.
