I am starting to worry that they won't fit. I tried them on after sweating off at least 8 lbs.

I weighed myself when I got home and was down about 6 and that was after eating a huge lunch and some homemade soup for dinner.

OK, that huge lunch was only a steak salad and a small order of wings, but still.

And I'll say this. For a little guy, Pat can really pack away the bar food.

P.S. next time I tell that story it will be 10 lbs. Don't worry, I have put it all back.
