

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Orvis Superfine performance

Re: Orvis Superfine performance

Author: : PennKev

Date: : 2013/10/29 18:14:59

URL:

The rod action is of very little concern IMO. Pick whichever model you like. If that is the Superfine, go with that. More important is the line weight and rod length. If you are worried about throwing bigger flies, get the 4wt. 4wt rods are fantastic and versatile small stream rods. You'll be prepared for anything. As for length get the longest rod you feel comfortable with on the streams you are likely to fish. Personally, I find a 7' 6" to be ideal for many small streams that if fish.

Kev