I'll try craigslist first and definitely look into the Prowler, and I'll make this my last resort. I want it primarily for fishing larger stillwaters in my area, as well as the slower parts of the North Branch of the Susquehanna River near my workplace. I don't foresee any salt use, but it may happen. As to other concerns, I'm 5'8" and 195 pounds, and I don't plan on standing in the boat. I'm hoping to keep the price under $500, but I can go as high as $650.
