I fished for carp this whole summer on the conodoguinet creek in my back yard and I've had about 10 or so carp on my line but i only have a 5 wt rod and 6 lb tippet so they broke off every time. Im only 15 so i don't have a job to buy a new rod so this winter, I'm going to shovel a lot of drive ways and buy a rod dedicated to carp in the spring! Once i get that rod, I'll probably fully dedicate my time to fly fishing for carp and smallmouths.
