
Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : More Creatures of the Night!

More Creatures of the Night!

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/11/3 9:14:19

URL:

In recent years I've transitioned most of my large streamer flies away from clouser eye dumbbell weights and on to keel weights utilizing heavy mono and beads or slip sinkers. Here's an eel fly I'm eager to try in the salt this year - esp around some jetty or rock piles at night. Eel flies have treated me well over the years - this is partly from watching New England surf sharpies nail stripers on the ever popular black Sluggos. Will be interesting see how this guy performs - should get a workout at the salt jam.

Attach file:

 Eel1.jpg (84.52 KB)

