i have the 3mm RC and they are plenty small enough when you're on stream.

i do need to get a safety pin to keep them on and tye them on before i release the pin i think.

The rings I got were already on a snap. Now, talk about being stupid. When I first got the pack of rings I found it impossible, while sitting at my desk, to tie on my leader. On top of that, I lost quite a few rings on the carpeting. I came back here and then read you should tie the ring while it's still on snap. Duh.
