There you go Jack, Tloomis has your solution, get more stress in your life so you can fish more. JK
It all depends on what stage of life you are in. My daughter is 13 and my son is nine, she figure skates and he plays hockey. They are at an age where they are pretty self sufficient except for transportation and such. If you're kids are toddlers or newborns it makes it more difficult to find time. If you are retired and kids are grown then its a little easier. If you are dead then you wont be fishing because you won't have any more stress.
