

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Advice on sunglasses

Re: Advice on sunglasses

Author: : PatrickC

Date: : 2013/11/6 8:26:35

URL:

Quote:

dkile wrote:

Alby mentioned these guys last year: Guideline - <http://www.glpolarized.com/GEW/index.html> Looks like they offer reg and scrip glasses with a bonus bifocal option at pretty good prices. I am going to get a pair after my next eye appt in the spring.

They also have a line Fisherman - <http://www.glpolarized.com/FEW/index.html> that offer just none scrip with some very affordable polarized lens.

Polarization is a must and gonna go with Fishidiot and Millerstime this one and get something in the yellow-copper space.

I've been using Rx polarized sunglasses for fishing for years. You will like them. They are just starting to hammer out the Transitions polarized Rx lenses. That will be really nice once they are affordable. I hate having to have to pairs of glasses because the sunglasses are too dark at dusk and dawn. Now if they can just make a progressive trifocal Transitions polarized lens for less than the price of a new F-250....I'll be in business!