

---

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Bonefish snacks...

Re: Bonefish snacks...

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/11/7 7:28:41

URL:

Quote:

elonDO wrote:

Any other recommendations of what to throw in the box???

A very nice collection - I'd say you have most bases covered.

I'd add some small crab flies in sand and olive green colors. The conventional wisdom with flats flies is to match the bottom color so olive works well if there is turtle grass or dark corals. The Bahamas are know for their open sand flats so some light colored crabs would "match the hatch." Bonefish flies for the tropics are also generally smaller and lighter (in weight) than Keys patterns. Anyway, don't forget the crabs (you might get some shots at permit as well). Finally, I'd add a couple cuda flies and maybe a big orange marabou streamer for small sharks. Both of these will require a wire bite leader of course.