

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : The Woolly Bugger in Winter

Re: The Woolly Bugger in Winter

Author: : PorkChop

Date: : 2013/11/11 19:36:21

URL:

I love the WB, white, black, and olive. Bead head or not, I usually catch fish on them. I think white works best for clear low water & in winter. I would say also in high water conditions after a good rain. Black in the darker water and Summer. I almost always use 10 or 12 (smaller) but I fish stocked trout. The WB is also a killer point fly for all seasons, especially in winter!