We would have had no idea where to fish if it weren't for our guide. According to him, the beach we fished provided the closest access to deep water. There are some areas of the lake, where the shallow shelf extends 100 yards off the shore. Saw very few fishermen other than us. You don't necessarily have to bomb flies to get to the fish. The one you see in the picture hit about 10 feet in front of me. My back hurt after standing on that ladder all day, but it was worth it.
