On the other hand, to maintain marital harmony, tell your wife you'll be home a couple hours later than you plan. Then, if you get home when you plan, you're a thoughtful hero. If you need the extra time, you're still not in trouble.

To cast ten feet farther: clean your fly line each time you use it. I like the convenient Cortland pads.

I tried the mono-perfection loop idea. Perhaps because I'm such a bad caster, I had many tangles at the mono loop. Just me, probably.
