Lol! I don't dress that well.

I think I almost snuck into fig 64- I fished that exact pool (which was two pools the day before) after the flood and remember the water clarity and level were almost exactly what is shown in that picture.

I noticed from the one table, 4 of the 7 highest flow events since 2007 occurred in a one-month span this past summer. Ouch.

And take a look at figure 52- is that our answer for why there are more rainbows? It shows the flow from the main spring basically doubling starting in 2011.
