I have trouble seeing to tie small flies on. So I use a needle threader. I put the fly on the threader through the eye of the hook and run the tippet through just like your threading a needle. Works great for me. It also helps in cold weather if my hands are shaking.

I also keep most of my small fly's already stacked on threaders so I don't have to mount them on the threader at the stream. I will keep maybe 6 or so stacked on each threader.
