Well, my plans to get up to the Jam didn't work out unfortunately, so I took this past Friday off and headed up to make up for it. Fished 16 and 20 mile on Friday, went 4 for 5, a good number of fish around, but very finnickly, 2 on streamers, 1 on about a size 20 or 18 zebra nymph, the other on a prince nymph, both fished under a tandem rig with a pink egg on top. Saturday, went to the 79 section of Elk for the first time ever, had a few hook ups, got one on a streamer early on, after that they shut down especially for the fly guys. Planning to head up Thanksgiving weekend, need a few more rains/ snows to get some fish spread out and fresh fish moving in, from the reports I've heard it sounds most of the fish are concentrated in certain holes.
